ABC – A Painters Alphabet

A new circus performance (3+)

Kompani Giraff | Sweden

Content description

Duration

- 35 minutes, there is no post-show time

Language and text

- without spoken language
- the capital letters are painted or formed with props and bodies

Stage design, props

- the stage is covered with white cloths and paint buckets and brushes stand at the sides
- the performers wear white painter's overalls and at some points they change clothes and wear e.g. a large blue fur coat, pink outfits with a crown and a swan costume
- orange rings are juggled
- various smaller objects such as balls, funnels, picture frames, suitcases, paint buckets, brushes and hats, as well as a small ladder, are used as props

Sensorial stimuli/triggers

- pleasant bright light
- joyful music (without singing) plays throughout
- there is a lot of magic
- towards the end of the show one of the performers shakes out the white cloth on the floor so that it waves in the air and looks like a sea of clouds

Audience area and movement

- the audience looks at the stage from the front
- the show is for watching

Atmosphere and content

- light, playful atmosphere
- the performers engage with the Latin alphabet through acrobatic movements, “magical” tricks and playful creativity
- the show is also enjoyable if you don't know the alphabet
